

Plant Tour Concludes Meeting Of Kiwanis Club

Admitted to membership of Torrance Kiwanis Club at the regular meeting Monday evening were Charles C. Schultz, of Schultz & Peckham and John T. Oursler, open hearth superintendent of Columbia Steel Company.

Of interest to the membership was the informative report of the vocational guidance committee whose members participated in Torrance High School's initial Career Day.

Following the dinner meeting, conducted by President Dave Colville, members adjourned to Columbia Steel Company where they spent two and a half hours touring the plant. The tour was conducted by Otto A. Kresse, general superintendent.

Spotlight Causes Crash

Blinded by a spotlight on an oncoming car, James Le Roy Brady, 25, of 1308 Elm avenue, miraculously escaped serious injury when his car struck a power pole, sheared off a second pole and came to rest on its top in an accident at 233rd street and Narbonne avenue early this week.

A witness to the accident, Walter Marsden of South Gate, reported that he too was blinded by the approaching vehicle with one headlight and glaring spotlight, but was able to avoid a crash. Marsden reported to police that the offending vehicle did not stop.

Why should you vote for Nickolas Drale?

If Nick is elected to the Council he hopes to be well known to Torrance voters by his efforts to serve the best interests of all the people of Torrance. When he decided to be a candidate for the office of councilman, he was fully aware of the charter plan and the amendments now being brought to the attention of the voters at this election. Our priceless democratic way, the use of the power to vote for free expression and will of the people will determine his stand on the amendments. If the plan and amendments are voted by the people, he believes it is the obligation of any elected representative to carry out the expressed will of the people.

He has no personal axe to grind but feels deeply and sincerely that it is the duty of every citizen to be an active participant in affairs of his government. All of us can do something at the local level.

If you won't run for office, at least do your duty as an American and cast your vote. If you feel that he is sincere and will work for the best interest of Torrance, as we are convinced, vote for Nickolas Drale for office of City Councilman.
